Culture aided jailed breast ops surgeon

A CULTURE of "avoidance and denial" allowed a breast surgeon to perform botched and unnecessary operations on hundreds of women, a report has found.

An independent inquiry into Ian Paterson's malpractice has recommended the recall of his 11,000 patients for their surgery to be assessed.

Paterson is serving a 20-year jail term for 17 counts of wounding with intent.

One of his colleagues has been referred to police and five more to health watchdogs by the inquiry.

Paterson worked with cancer patients at NHS and private hospitals in the West Midlands over 14 years.

His unregulated "cleavage-sparing" mastectomies, in which breast tissue was left behind, meant the disease returned in many of his patients.

Others had surgery they did not need.

PM's 2035 ban for petrol cars

A BAN on selling new petrol, diesel or hybrid cars in the UK will be brought forward from 2040 to 2035 at the latest, under government plans.

The change comes after experts said 2040 would be too late if the UK wants to achieve its target of emitting virtually zero carbon by 2050.

Boris Johnson unveiled the policy as part of a launch event for a United Nations climate summit in Glasgow in November.

He said 2020 would be a "defining year of climate action" for the planet.

CHINESE HOOKERS SLASH PRICES

HOOKEES from China are claiming they have been discriminated against in Britain because of the deadly coronavirus.

Chinese sex workers are choosing to change their nationality to "Asian" in sex directory advertisements online and cut their rates.

One said that despite dropping her rates from £100 to £50 a romp she has still lost more than 50 per cent of her trade since the outbreak struck and claimed business has never been so bad.

People are refusing to pay for her services despite her not having returned to China for eight years.

She said clients saw her as "no different to someone who has just arrived from Wuhan" – the city at the epicentre of the outbreak.

The sex worker said: "I don't mention that I am Chinese anymore and I offer a big discount, but clients are avoiding us like we are the virus."

Prostitutes' collectives have been warning hookers to follow precautions made by the World Health Organisation.

High profile New Zealand sex worker Lisa Lewis said she has had to screen clients if they have a cold or flu symptoms.

She said: "I have them shower in front of me where

I put the soap I've purchased on them to ensure hygiene is maintained, and I don't kiss clients."

Ms Lewis said she feels sympathetic for Chinese sex workers, adding: "I feel maybe they are being discriminated against which isn't nice."

FOREIGN OFFICE: GET OUT NOW!

BRITONS in mainland China have been urged to leave as coronavirus continues to claim more lives in the country.

The Foreign Office amended its travel advice after Health Secretary Matt Hancock said he expects more cases of the virus to be diagnosed in the UK.

Foreign Secretary, Dominic Raab, said: "We now advise British nationals in China to leave the country if they can, to minimise their risk of exposure to the virus.

"Where there are still British nationals in Hubei province who wish to be evacuated, we will continue to work around the clock to facilitate this."

The Foreign Office added that commercial flights departing China were available throughout the country, except in Hubei where virus originated.

LEFTIE LAWYERS PLOT TO SCUPPER BORIS TERROR CRACKDOWN

LEFT wing lawyers are planning legal action against Boris Johnson to STOP him keeping convicted terrorists in prison.

The prime minister wants to push emergency laws through parliament which would bring automatic early release to an end.

But legal experts say any change of law would "certainly" be challenged as it breaches a convention that individuals' sentences should not be changed retrospectively.

Former Director of Public Prosecutions Lord Macdonald told Sky News he believed the government will be able to fend off attempts to overturn the measures, arguing that it is only proposing to change the way that sentences are implemented.

DEAD: Sudesh Amman

The law was announced by Justice Secretary Robert Buckland in the wake of the latest atrocity in London.

Sudesh Amman was shot dead by police around a minute after launching an attack on two bystanders in Streatham, south London, on Sunday.

The 20-year-old, who was jailed for possessing and distributing terrorist documents in December 2018, was freed from prison under automatic early release provisions less than a fortnight ago.

Mr Buckland said emergency legislation was needed to make sure terrorists are not released automatically from prison halfway through their sentence.

A No 10 source said that the law would be introduced this week ahead of a package of measures expected later this year that could include a beefed-up role for the Parole Board.

Crucially ministers want plans for the law to apply to those already in prison for terror crimes, as well as those jailed in future.

ACCUSED: Hashem Abedi 'helped brother Salman (right) make bomb'

MANCHESTER BOMBER'S BROTHER 'JUST AS GUILTY'

Court told Hasham Abedi helped make explosives

THE brother of the Manchester Arena bomber helped to make the explosives which killed 22 people and injured many others who were caught up in the blast, a court has heard.

The murder trial of Hashem Abedi opened at the Old Bailey yesterday, as jurors were told how the atrocity unfolded.

At 10.31pm on May 22, 2017, Salman Abedi, 22, detonated a large explosive device as music fans were leaving an Ariana Grande concert.

Carrying a rucksack with the bomb in it, he had joined the throng of parents and families picking up young concert-goers.

The device was packed with shrapnel made up of nuts and bolts. Nineteen people died at the scene and a further three were mortally wounded.

Prosecutor Duncan Penny QC said: "Such was the ferocity of this explosion that Salman Abedi was dismembered in the process."

A picture of the aftermath appeared to show the bomber's head and upper torso in Victoria station ticket hall, well away from other body parts strewn in the foyer.

The bomber's brother Hashem, now also 22, is "just as guilty" of the murders as his sibling, Mr Penny told jurors.

Injured

"Twenty-two people – men, women, teenagers and a child – were killed. Another 28 people were very seriously injured, a further 63 people seriously injured, 111 others were also hospitalised," he said.

"The prosecution's case is that this defendant is just as guilty of the murder of the 22 people killed as was his brother. He is equally guilty of the attempted murder of many others and in doing so he was guilty of agreeing with his brother to cause an explosion or explosions of a nature likely to endanger life."

Mr Penny said Hashem Abedi had assisted and encouraged his brother.

The pair allegedly obtained chemicals for a home-made bomb; got metal containers to construct it; found an address in Manchester to manufacture the explosive; and bought screws and nails for shrapnel.

The court heard that the brothers, whose parents are Libyan, had begun to show "some signs of radicalisation" in the years before the bombing, Salman more than Hashem.

Hashem, originally from Manchester, denies 22 counts of murder, attempted murder and conspiring with his brother to cause explosions.

TELLY babe Amanda Holden was sickened to discover TV man Alan Carr had sex in her hot tub!

The beauty posted a sexy snap of herself posing next to a hot tub on holiday at a luxury resort in the New Forest.

But when she uploaded the snap online, Carr's husband Paul Drayton revealed that they had stayed in the Chewington Lodge too – and had banged in the very same hot tub.

Skimpy

An appalled Amanda, 48, who as usual had her pokey nipples on display as she posed in her skimpy, skin-tight, red swimming costume, joked online that the thought made her sick.

She posted a sickface emoji in response to Paul's post which said: "You're staying in the same one as us! We had sex in that hot tub!"

A source told Midweek Sport: "Amanda was appalled to realise she was relaxing in a hot tub where one of her friends had recently been having a shag.

"It certainly doesn't help you to relax when you slip into the bubbly water and close your eyes.

"Instead of letting the stresses of the world fall away and the pressures of a busy workload ease from your shoulders, you'd be thinking about your chum's cumface.

"No-one wants that. Obviously she wasn't really sickened at the thought of them having sex – just where they had it!"

Sex for work a big turn-off for tea-lovin' UK tradesmen

A POLL of 2,000 tradesmen – including plumbers, locksmiths, gardeners, joiners, builders, roofers, painters, decorators and electricians – found that 19 per cent had been offered sexual favours as payment.

The most commonly propositioned are plumbers, heating engineers and electricians, with one-in-three being offered sex in return for a job well done, the study by trades comparison site HaMuch.com found.

The number taking up the offer, however, is estimated at less than two per cent. The research found that being offered sex in return for payment was the third biggest GRIPE of tradesmen across the UK, who say they'd prefer the cash.

- TRADESMEN'S BIGGEST GRIPES:
1. Not being offered a cup of tea
 2. Late payers
 3. Being offered sex instead of payment
 4. Asked to do 'other quick jobs' for free
 5. Being told job was 'emergency' when it wasn't
 6. Constantly being watched by client
 7. Customers who buy own materials
 8. Paperwork
 9. Fixing another tradesman's bad work
 10. Customer changing mind during job

Street tosser tells JPs, 'I'm a decent guy'

A MAN caught wanking in his car in a busy street told magistrates he is "a decent guy".

Stephen Price, 59, admitted outraging public decency after the lewd incident on January 10.

JPs heard he was seen to pull up in his vehicle and expose himself before performing the sex act.

He stopped when a woman walked past and again when a vehicle parked in front of him, only to carry on tossing.

He was reported to police and admitted it was him when questioned.

The witness said they had seen him on four occasions in Kettering on busy Friday afternoons.

Price, of Desborough, told Northampton JPs: "I really regret what I have done. I am a decent guy."

He was handed a community order with 100 hours of unpaid work.

THE high point of Cara Delevingne's trip into the wilderness with Bear Grylls was the model being taught how to SHIT in the woods by the telly adventurer.

The famous action man revealed his special outdoor relief methods to the Brit model in his show Running Wild, screened on Sunday night.

But while Bear revealed his pooing technique, Cara DIDN'T reveal her lovely little teats. So today we put that right...

Bear's plopping tips include the 'kung-fu' technique, a one-legged squat, and the 'second date' routine.

Cara asked Bear: "What do I do if I need a poo?"

He responded: "It's always nice to be able to introduce people to my golden, top tips for defecating in the wild."

One fan of boyish, part-time lesbian Cara, 27, said: "If I was out on a ramble and came across little Cara plopping one out, I'd faint with sheer delight!"

Torture arsonist guilty of sex-snub mother's murder

A MAN has been found guilty of the murder of a mum-of-three who he tied up and tortured before slitting her throat after she "laughed" off his sexual advances.

Brendan Rowan-Davies, 29, killed Kelly-Anne Case at her home in Gosport, Hants, before setting fire to the property in the early hours of July 30, 2019.

He spent the night with pal Will Vallender at Ms Case's home and the trio drank vodka and took cocaine.

Rowan-Davies told Ms Case he fancied her but "she just laughed".

She and Mr Vallender then went to a bedroom to have sex and he filmed them on his phone through a gap in the door.

The two men later left the house but Rowan-Davies returned alone an hour later, when he tortured and killed Ms Case, bound her hands with cable ties and torched the house. Her body was found by firefighters.

At Winchester Crown Court Rowan-Davies, of Gosport, was found guilty of murder and arson and will be sentenced later.

Shop w*cker came back to rage at worker

A SHAMELESS shopper was caught performing a solo sex act in the aisles – then flew into a rage at a female shop worker.

David Rhys Hall, 29, was nicked after being seen pleasuring himself in a newsagents.

He was freed by a court after being convicted of outraging public decency – but returned to the shop weeks later and attacked a shop worker who gave evidence against him.

Swansea Crown Court was told: "Hall began shouting and flicking a lit cigarette at his victim, calling her a slag and threatening to kill her."

A customer intervened at the shop in Neath, South Wales, and police were called.

Hall, from North Cornelly, pleaded guilty to battery and threatening to kill and was jailed for six months, suspended 18 months.

AVOIDED PRISON:
Louise Whyte

She offered to perform oral sex and started to pull down her panties...

DRUNK MUM'S RANDY ANTICS ON HOLIDAY JET

Dem's fine boobs!

DISHY Demi Rose had fans dripping with pure excitement after she shared a very saucy SKINNY DIPPING snap!

The rosy-cheeked social media star showcased her huge cleavage while bathing in a clear water shallow pool on the south east coast of Mexico.

Boasting a glowing tan the 24-year-old Birmingham babe looked up at the camera, flaunting her long lashes and deep brown eyes, with her hair slicked behind her ears.

A fan said: "I wish I had a snorkel."

A MUM downed duty-free vodka on a plane then offered to SUCK OFF a fellow passenger.

Flight crew became concerned about 38-year-old Louise Whyte's behaviour on the TUI flight – which included her trying to remove her KNICKERS.

Manchester Minshull Street Crown Court heard on May 27 last year Whyte was taking her daughter on holiday alone for the first time when she met a man at Manchester Airport.

Before boarding the plane to Dalaman in Turkey, she took diazepam and codeine which she'd been prescribed for pain-relief for an injury.

And onboard she downed vodka – "unaware" of the effects it would have combined with the medication.

Whyte left the seat next to her daughter to sit with the man she had met previously and became "loud" and started swearing.

Despite repeated attempts by the man and cabin crew to calm her down, she continued to drink.

Gobble

Whyte then tried to kiss the man, before offering to give him a gobble.

The captain was then alerted and she had to be flown straight back to the UK from Turkey.

However, a judge ruled that the safety of those on the plane was not ultimately endangered.

Prosecutor Charlotte Crangle said: "The defendant befriended a male passenger while in the terminal. He came across the defendant because she appeared upset and had lost her phone, so he helped her find it.

"He thought she appeared a bit tipsy or under the influence of prescription drugs."

Whyte and the man went to a terminal bar, where they had "one or two drinks" before boarding the plane.

He later described her as being "over-friendly" and "loud" on the flight.

Ms Crangle added: "She then asked him for his vodka he'd bought earlier in duty-free and started to drink it.

"He warned her not to do it and told her to calm down.

"He became concerned that she was becoming intoxicated and warned her not to become so drunk when she had her daughter to look after."

The man tried to "appease" Whyte by drinking with her, but he became "increasingly concerned" about her daughter, the court heard.

After drinking around two-thirds of the 70cl bottle of vodka, other passengers noticed Whyte swearing and being "loud".

The man raised concerns with cabin crew when she continued to stand up.

Her daughter was "distressed" and Whyte was moved away from her.

When Whyte made a reference to diazepam, the crew took her bag and found an empty blister packet inside which contained the prescription drug, plus one of codeine.

Ms Crangle said: "She then tried to kiss him and touched his upper body.

"She was repeatedly telling him it was time for them to go to bed.

Touching

"In an attempt to calm the situation down, he went back to his seat as the plane was descending, but she followed and repeatedly offered to perform oral sex upon him and was touching his thigh and saying that she would put her jacket over her head.

"At one point, she started to pull down her own trousers and underwear."

The captain was informed about Whyte's behaviour and the decision was taken to keep her on the plane during the changeover in Turkey.

Whyte was flown straight back to the UK and arrested on arrival in Manchester.

Her daughter's father collected her at the airport.

Judge Sophie McKone agreed to suspend the sentence and said the incident was "wholly out of character".

Whyte, of Bury, Gtr Manchester, pleaded guilty to entering an aircraft when drunk and sexual assault.

She was given a six-month custodial term, suspended for 12 months, a six-month curfew and 15 rehabilitation activity requirement days.

She was also ordered to sign the Sex Offenders' Register for seven years.

Susan: I'm learning to ride at 58!

SINGER Susan Boyle is finally learning to ride a bicycle – at 58 – but has “still got the stabilisers on”.

The Britain's Got Talent star (above) said it's “better late than never” and that learning to cycle is her goal for 2020.

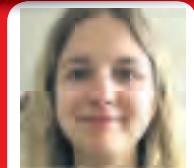

But she's scared to take the stabilisers off in case she injures herself, and has to perform in a cast.

Susan, who shot to fame after her I Dreamed a Dream performance on the ITV talent show in 2009, is set to tour the UK for the first time in six years.

She said: “I've bought myself a bike... I can ride an exercise bike, but I never learned to ride a bike as a girl. “Better late than never.”

“I've still got the stabilisers on – I'll have to take them off at some point, but I don't want to fall off and then come on stage for my tour in a cast.”

I MAKE £10,000 VALENTINE'S DAY!

GIFTS GALORE: Hayley is plied with expensive jewellery and watches

Mistress is quids-in as her wealthy lovers splash their cash...

A MISTRESS has told how she makes up to £10,000 on Valentine's Day with gifts from her rich married lovers – and has the best sex of her life.

Model Hayley Leeanna, 37, is lavished with gold jewellery, designer watches and expensive sunshine breaks in exotic locations by her cheating partners.

She makes sure she cashes in on the run-up to February 14 as lovers give her an extra special gift because they feel guilty about ditching her for their wives on the big day.

Gold

Fitness fan Hayley said: “Valentine's is a great time to be a mistress, because you can make a fortune with the gorgeous gifts and have the best sex ever.”

“I get the very best jewellery, watches and always ensure I get a bit of winter sun in the run-up to February with a free break with one of my wealthy lovers.”

“Married men are always a little more generous at this time of year because they feel guilty about abandoning mistresses on Valentine's when they know they will have to be with their wives.”

“I don't mind at all, because the last thing I want them to do is break up with their wives. I like being a bit on the side – you are treated much better that way and the gifts are more expensive.”

Hayley meets her lovers on IllicitEncounters.com, the UK's leading dating site for married people.

Hayley, of Peterborough, Cambs, posed with some of the gifts she has received in recent years – including a £3,000 thick gold chain from American department store Macy's, bought by an investor she has been seeing for three years.

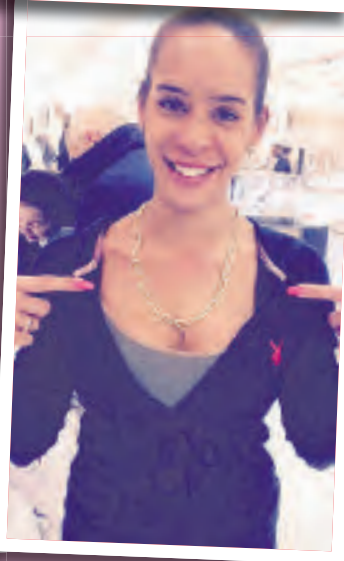

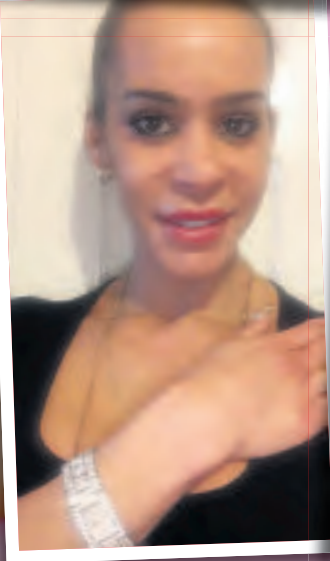

Her haul also includes a £750 gold and amethyst musical note pendant – a gift from a married stockbroker lover.

A businessman lover treated her to a £300 Dolce & Gabbana watch and a £560 gold Gucci watch.

EVERY

for Hayley

And she shared sizzling beach pictures from a pre-Valentine's break in Thailand with a businessman who has made a fortune investing in luxury beach retreats in the Far East.

Hayley said: "Valentine's is my favourite time of year – it's when I replenish my jewellery drawer, get a new designer watch and get away to the sun when it is wet and cold."

"I have been seeing the investor who bought the gold chain on and off for the last three years after we met on IllicitEncounters."

"He is a real kinky devil and likes to think of himself as a real-life Christian Grey from Fifty Shades."

"It means I get spanked more than a naughty schoolboy."

Kinky

"I don't mind, I like a bit of kinky fun – but it can be a little painful sitting down for dinner afterwards!"

"He is in New York a lot for business, which is where he bought the gorgeous gold chain."

"I see him once a month in London. We meet for dinner and then normally go to a hotel for sex."

"We have a tradition of him spoiling me at Valentine's – I always get a beautifully wrapped little box at the start of our date, it's always jewellery."

"His wife lives in the Home Counties and he stays in London hotels a lot because he works long hours. It provides a perfect cover for his affairs."

"The musical note pendant is from a stockbroker lover who has a largely sexless marriage with his wife. She lost interest years ago and turns a blind eye to his affairs."

"I know I am not his only lover on IllicitEncounters and I'm cool with that."

"He is another who is sex-mad. He gets off on risk and is always looking to have sex in unusual places."

"If we are in a restaurant, he might bundle me into the gents and have sex up against the walls of one of the cubicles."

"The Thai break was to Phuket with a businessman who has made a lot of money investing in wellness retreats across the Far East."

"He spends most of the winter travelling out to his various retreats to check they are well run and normally brings a lover along with him for the ride."

"He is separated from his wife but uses IllicitEncounters because he says that the women are low maintenance which suits his circumstances."

"He is one of the wealthiest men on the site and is worth several millions."

"He likes to make love on the beach with the waves lapping on our toes. It's a lovely thing to do at night after a romantic meal. We always fly first class, so the breaks must cost him an absolute fortune."

"I also see a businessman every few months who loves watches. He always has a huge new timepiece on his wrist and loves to pick his favourite female watches for me."

"Last year, I got a very bling D&G watch, which I adore, and this year he gave me a more elegant gold one from Gucci, which is pretty special."

Hayley insists all her married lovers were cheating on their wives long before she came along. She said: "I only use IllicitEncounters because it's the site for dyed-in-the-wool cheats who find it impossible to stay faithful to one partner."

"I would hate the idea I was breaking up anyone's marriage – but that is definitely not the case."

"Most of the guys have an understanding with their wives. A lot of women cheat on the site too after doing a deal with their husbands."

IllicitEncounters.com sex and relationship expert Jessica Leoni said: "Valentine's Day is a great time to be on an extra-marital dating site."

"Our research shows that cheats spend 50 per cent more on gifts for their lovers than they do for their wives."

"The typical spend on a mistress is around £150, whereas the average spend on a regular partner is £100."

"In cases like Hayley's, they obviously spend a lot more."

SUPER BOWL STREAKER'S SECRET BOOB PICS!

NICKED:

Sunday

SUPER Bowl streaker Kelly Green posted a vid on Instagram after she was released from jail.

The Instagram influencer – also known as Kelly Kay – was arrested at the American Footie game on Sunday after she hopped over the railings and tried to run HALF-NAKED across the playing field.

The blonde model was stopped in her tracks by quick-thinking security guards who were seen escorting her away from the stadium as she flashed her cheeky pink thong at cameras.

But today we can reveal what security guards STOPPED the crowd from seeing – Kelly's boobs!

The model posed for these revealing snaps – which will surely delight all Super Bowl fans.

Kelly was arrested on Sunday at the Hard Rock Stadium in Miami, Florida, and charged with trespass.

Her police mugshot was later released.

Whopping

The 27-year-old, who has a whopping 250,000 Instagram followers, has since bragged about her short stint in prison.

Sharing a video of her by a pool in a bikini, Kelly said: "Young jail bait out of jail!"

"Fresh out the pen! Fresh out Dade County, what?!"

She then showed off her lovely surroundings to her followers and bragged: "Look what I have to come home to."

Captioning the post, Kelly wrote: "Do what you want, when you want, life's too short to have regrets. Thanks NFL for having me!"

Alcohol puts more people in hospital

HOSPITAL admissions due to alcohol have risen almost a fifth in the last decade to reach almost 358,000 last year, new figures show.

A report from NHS Digital shows a six per cent rise between 2017-18 and 2018-19 in cases where alcohol was the main reason for admission.

In 2018-19, there were 357,660 admissions – up from 337,870 in 2017-18 and 300,930 in 2008-09.

Mental and behavioural disorders due to drink led to admissions, while some people were taken to hospital suffering alcoholic liver disease.

Alcohol also influenced admissions for cancer, unintentional injuries and heart disease.

The NHS is estimated to spend £3.5billion a year on alcohol-related problems.

Bieber: Staff feared drugs would kill me

POP hunk Justin Bieber has spoken candidly about his drug use and revealed he feared it would KILL him.

The Canadian singer, 25 (above), said at his lowest point he would often wake up and start smoking cannabis and swallow pills.

He told how members of his security team would check his pulse throughout the night to make sure he was still breathing after he would binge on ecstasy and hallucinogenic mushrooms.

Speaking in the latest episode of his YouTube series Justin Bieber: Seasons, he said he first smoked weed aged 13 and later became dependent on it.

He moved on to harder drugs as he struggled with the pressure of fame and admitted drinking the codeine cough syrup and soft drink combo known as "lean" – which is popular with many rappers.

The What Do You Mean? performer said: "People don't know how serious it got. It was legit crazy scary."

£1m-a-year banker suspended for stealing butties

A MILLION-POUND-A-YEAR banker has been suspended after allegedly stealing BUTTIES from the staff canteen.

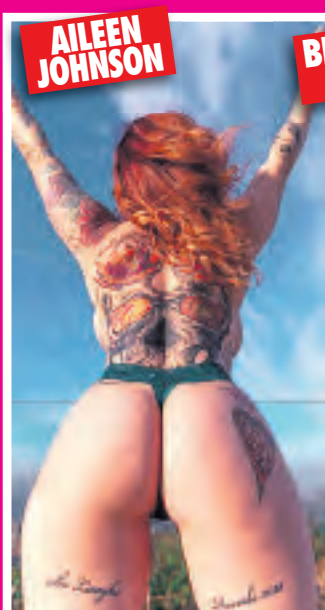

Paras Shah, 31 – thought likely to have been earning a seven-figure salary – was emoved as Citigroup's head of high-yield bond trading for Europe, the Middle East and Africa last month.

The bank suspended him following numerous allegations that he had been stealing food from its headquarters at Canary Wharf in London.

It is unclear how many sandwiches Mr Shah is alleged to have stolen, or over what period the alleged thefts took place.

The allegations come despite his role as one of Europe's highest-profile credit traders.

Citigroup declined to comment.

WOMAN JAILED OVER BUS FARE BLOWJOB BID

BANGED UP:
Michelle Hall

A WOMAN has been jailed after she sexually assaulted a stranger in his own home and offered to suck him off for the price of her BUS FARE.

Michelle Hall, 54, turned up at the victim's home unannounced and, when he answered the door, asked him for five pounds for a bus ride into the nearby city centre.

The victim refused, but Hall pushed her way past him, into his house in Huntingdon, Cambs.

Inside, she offered to perform oral sex on the man in exchange for the bus fare.

The victim refused again, prompting Hall to start groping him, and trying to pull his trousers down – despite him repeatedly asking her to stop during the incident on October 16 last year.

He then called the police as Hall fled into Peterborough.

Swabs

The victim gave cops a description of Hall and she was later identified through CCTV images and arrested.

She then admitted the offence, saying: "You don't have to take swabs – I'm guilty."

IKEA axes first UK store in 33-year history

IKEA has confirmed plans to shut one of its large UK stores for the first time in its 33-year history in the country.

The company will axe its £35million Coventry branch – which opened at Christmas in 2007 – with 352 workers expected to lose their jobs.

The Swedish furniture and home improvement giant said the site in the city centre was too expensive to keep operating and had lost customers to retail parks and online shopping.

IKEA said: "The store was built over seven levels, which resulted in a significant impact on the operating costs of the store and the shopping experience for customers."

"The changing behaviour of customers in the area who prefer to shop in retail parks and online has resulted in visitor numbers being substantially lower than expected."

At Peterborough Crown Court, Hall, of Huntingdon, was jailed for 20 months and put on the Sex Offenders' Register for 10 years.

PC Jess Porter said: "This has been a harrowing experience for the victim, who was forced to endure an unexpected ordeal in his own home."

"I would like to applaud the victim for having the courage to report this offence to police."

"Sexual offences can happen to anyone and we will always take allegations seriously."

WEINSTEIN TRIAL SENSATION

He said: 'Have you had a golden shower?' Then I felt him peeing on me...

RAPE
CHARGE:
Weinstein

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

MOVIE mogul Harvey Weinstein asked a woman he's accused of raping if she'd "ever had a golden shower" – before PEEING on her, a court heard.

The woman sobbed in the dock as she was quizzed by the film executive's lawyers at his New York trial.

Jessica Mann has alleged she was raped by disgraced Weinstein in 2013.

The aspiring actress broke down while giving evidence that saw her claim Weinstein gave her a "golden shower" – weeing on her in the shower.

Mann had been reading a letter she wrote to an ex-boyfriend in 2014, which described how she tried to make Weinstein "a pseudo father".

Parties

Mann, 34, then started to sob uncontrollably and left the courtroom gasping for air.

Judge James Burke then cut proceedings short for the day.

In court, Mann was repeatedly asked to justify her actions following allegations that Weinstein raped her in a New York hotel in 2013.

Earlier, Weinstein's lawyer Donna Rotunno had claimed Mann "manipulated" Weinstein because she liked the "parties and the power" that were a result of their relationship.

Mann told the court: "I felt panicked because I had this dynamic with Harvey where I always had to jump and obey. The abuse was unpredictable."

Mann also recounted the time that Weinstein asked her if she had ever had a "golden shower".

then cut

SOBBED
IN COURT:
Mann

She said: "We were in the shower. He wanted to shower first, which was beneficial to me, and he asked me to come into the shower and then he said to me, 'Have you ever had a golden shower?' "And I said 'No.' And then I felt him peeing on me."

Weinstein, 67, once among the most powerful figures in Hollywood, has been accused of sexual abuse by more than 80 women since allegations against him first emerged in October 2017 and sparked the worldwide #MeToo movement.

The allegations made by Mann, along with those of production assistant Mimi Halesy, form the basis of the five felony charges for which he is standing trial.

Mann has claimed that Weinstein raped her in a room at Manhattan's Doubletree Hotel in March 2013 after injecting his penis with a drug to help him gain an erection.

She says he also raped her again eight months later in an LA hotel after screaming, "You owe me one more time!", and dragging her into a bedroom.

The trial continues.

NAVY'S £1M DRUGS BUST

A ROYAL Navy warship has seized £1million worth of weed in a drugs bust while on patrol in the Indian Ocean.

The seizure of 2,500kg of the drugs by HMS Defender, a Type 45 destroyer, comes just two months after it intercepted 131kg of crystal meth, the largest such seizure by the Combined Maritime Forces.

Commanding officer of the Portsmouth-based ship, Richard Hewitt, said: "Once again Defender has been able to seize a significant amount of narcotics, reinforcing the Royal Navy's commitment to ensuring maritime security by disrupting operations of drug smugglers and terrorists."

A navy spokesman said: "The drugs bust unfolded after Defender launched her Wildcat helicopter to begin a search for possible illegitimate marine traffic.

"Before long, a suspicious drone was identified and Defender sent a boarding team of Royal Marine Commandos."

BUT WAS IT A WHOPPER?

Randy punter tries to pay for sex with a HAMBURGER

A MAN has been arrested in a prostitution sting after he agreed to pay an undercover officer with a HAMBURGER in exchange for sex.

Dominic Calderon, a 36-year-old sex offender, was taken into custody after he rode his bicycle up to a female officer standing on the pavement.

The officer, posing as a prostitute,

GRILLED: Calderon

By NELSON SAUVIN
news@sundaysport.co.uk

began a conversation with Calderon about potential costs to receive sex.

After the two agreed on £60, Calderon asked for the officer's number because he did not get paid until Friday.

That's when the officer noticed Calderon was carrying a Chili's Grill & Bar carry-out bag, prompting her to ask what was inside.

Calderon said that it was a Chili's hamburger, which cost between £7 and £9. The female undercover cop told him that her fee could be the burger.

Seized

Calderon agreed to the new price and asked the officer to meet him at his home – but he was quickly arrested by waiting cops.

He was booked on patronising a prostitute and the evidence, including the burger, was seized by police.

After his arrest, the Albuquerque Police Department in New Mexico discovered he was on probation for a 2006 criminal sexual penetration conviction that landed him on the sex offenders register.

Calderon is currently being held in the Bernalillo County jail in New Mexico awaiting trial later this month. Ten other people were arrested in the sting.

Neighbours wed and die for 35 years

AUSTRALIAN soap Neighbours will celebrate its 35th anniversary with a week of special episodes featuring the return of former cast members, five weddings and the deaths of three characters.

The week kicks off with Chloe's (April Rose Pengilly, above) idea to stage a wedding exposition to save Erinsborough's Lassiters Hotel.

Jason Herbison, executive producer of Neighbours, said: "We have a reputation for going big with our milestones – and this is our biggest yet."

"We're excited to deliver our viewers a double dose of Neighbours which will lead to three deaths and five weddings."

"There's warmth and nostalgia as well as high drama and – for the first time ever – we'll have a week-long narrative taking place separate to the happenings in Erinsborough."

The anniversary episodes will begin on Channel 5 on March 16.

Cops probe ice skating sex attacks

FRENCH prosecutors have opened an investigation into claims of sexual abuse of minors in figure skating after claims made by an ex-world championship medallist.

The probe will examine the allegations made by skater Sarah Abitbol that she was raped by coach Gilles Beyer between the ages of 15 and 17.

It will also "attempt to identify all the other victims who suffered offences of the same nature," Paris-based prosecutor Remy Heitz said in a statement.

Last week Abitbol, a former world bronze medallist, published an autobiography in which she accused Beyer of raping her between 1990 and 1992.

Three other skaters also came forward with accusations against Beyer and two skating coaches.

AS JEN AND BRAD REKINDLE THEIR ROMANCE...

MILEY CYRUS & LIAM HEMSWORTH

IN CLASSIC Hollywood style, Miley, 27, and Liam, 30, have been on again/off again since 2009.

Almost ten years of up and downs followed before they eventually tied the knot in 2018 – only for it all to fall apart after just eight months.

Liam filed for divorce in December that month citing irreconcilable differences and a judge began unravelling the marriage last week. Their divorce will be complete on February 22.

By GRACE HOOPER
news@sundaysport.co.uk

JENNIFER Aniston and Brad Pitt could make their reunion official.

A source has told Midweek Sport that the exes are close to getting back together, 15 years after their divorce.

The source said that their friends "wouldn't be surprised if an announcement came soon, but they expect it to be lowkey."

Fans of the Hollywood legends went into meltdown after they were pictured holding hands at the recent SAG Awards.

The pair, in high spirits after they both bagged awards, shared a warm embrace backstage.

Brad was pictured cheering "Oh wow" after watching his ex-wife win Outstanding Performance by a Female Actor in a Drama Series for her role in The Morning Show.

Jen was also smiling during Brad's acceptance speech for winning Outstanding Performance by a Male Actor in a Supporting Role, especially when referred to his wives, including Jennifer herself and Angelina Jolie.

One onlooker said: "The moment was really touching, and you could sense the respect between two people who have known each other 20-plus years."

And it seems like the pair are part of a Hollywood trend. Here, we look at other couples who keep on rebounding back to each other...

JESSIE J & CHANNING TATUM

SOME bad news for Channing Tatum, who's just reunited with British ex, singer Jessie J – as it turns out the sexy star would rather COOK than have sex.

The Do It Like A Dude star put nookie fourth on the list of her favourite pleasures, behind cooking, cleaning and singing.

Jessie, 31, whose 2018 romance with ex-lover Channing, 39, is now back on, said: "Tidying is my love language. Cooking, organising, singing and sex are my favourite things, in that order."

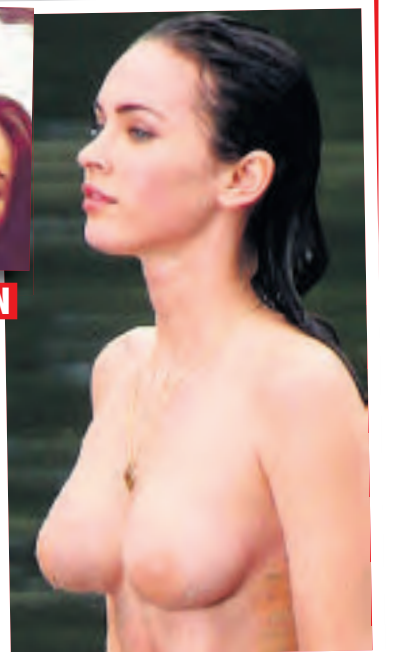

MEGAN FOX & BRIAN AUSTIN GREEN

AT first glance, Megan Fox and Brian Austin Green's relationship appears to be picture-perfect.

But since first meeting in 2004, the couple have faced more challenges than most.

Their romance has seen a LOT of ups and downs, including a near-divorce. But the actors have managed to work through their issues and come out the other side deeply in love.

These days, they're fully devoted to one another and their three children Noah, Bodhi, and Journey.

RIHANNA & CHRIS BROWN

RIHANNA and Brown first started dating sometime in 2008.

But everything came crashing down when news broke that Brown had physically abused Rihanna during the early morning hours of February 8, 2009, leaving her with bruises and bite marks.

Later reports and comments from Brown would reveal that the couple had a history of violence.

Rihanna later admitted that Brown was her first big love, and the relationship between them was a bit of an obsession.

BLAC CHYNA & ROB KARDASHIAN

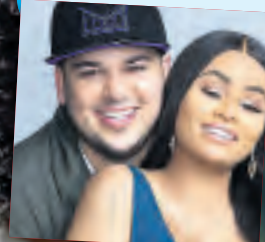

THE relationship between these two would go on to become Rob's first high-profile relationship since his 2012 romance with singer Rita Ora.

In February 2016, rumours began swirling that she and Rob were engaged, although it wasn't true.

But after dating a mere 10 weeks, Rob put a very hefty ring on it — officially deeming him and Chyna engaged in April 2016.

Then they split, reconciled, split again, got back together, and split yet again.

On January 8 Rob reportedly filed for primary custody of their daughter Dream, claiming in a sealed court filing that Blac Chyna is "out of control."

AFTER three years of off-and-on dating and a Valentine's Day proposal, Katy Perry and Orlando Bloom then postponed their wedding.

Originally planned for December last year, the couple has delayed the date and are reportedly scheduling two ceremonies.

The road leading up to their marriage has been a long one.

The pair first met at the beginning of 2016, broke up in February 2017, and stayed amicable throughout their split before rekindling their romance five months later in August.

KOURTNEY KARDASHIAN & SCOTT DISICK

KOURTNEY and Scott met at Girls Gone Wild creator Joe Francis' house in Mexico, though apparently Kourtney wasn't into him at first.

They were together for 12 years and lived quite a life. They had three kids, plenty of fun – and lots and lots of drama.

While the romantic relationship between them didn't quite work out, they still have a solid connection.

In an April 2019 episode of Keeping Up With The Kardashians, a spiritual healer in Bali told them they were soulmates.

BELLA HADID & THE WEEKND

THE Weeknd – real name Abel Tesfaye – has made a career out of albums that are both seductive and sad.

And the same can be said about his on-and-off relationship with supermodel Bella Hadid.

After initially connecting in 2015, the couple has had multiple breakups and reconciliations.

They got back together after The Weeknd's highly-publicized Selena Gomez relationship in 2017, then broke up due to conflicting schedules in August 2019.

And two months later, they were back on!

LINDSEY LOHAN & SAMANTHA RONSON

LINDSAY went through her extensive ex-files during an appearance on The Howard Stern Show last year.

And Bad Girls star Lohan, 32, spoke about ex-girlfriend Samantha Ronson, 41.

"We were friends more than anything," she claimed. "We were always more like best friends as well."

Lohan, who split from the British DJ in 2009, said she also stood up for cast member Mike Muldering, after "people were kind of mean to him" about his bisexuality.

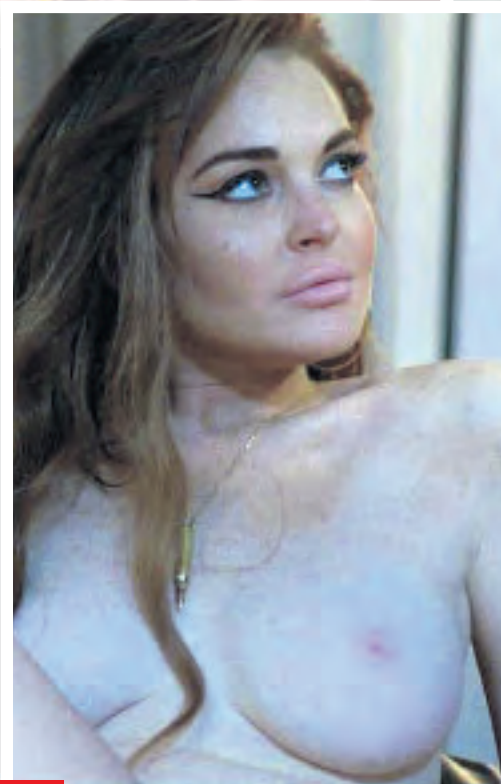

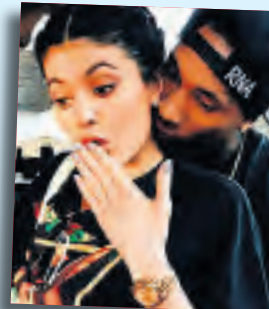

KYLIE JENNER & TYGA

IT appeared that Kylie first had something for Tyga when she bumped into him at her sister Kendall's sixteenth birthday party.

He'd been invited to perform at the event back in 2011 and she can be seen awkwardly flirting with Tyga in the following episode of Keeping Up With The Kardashians.

Kylie gave birth to a baby girl, Stormi Webster, in February, 2018, her first child with rapper Travis Scott.

However, Tyga claimed he was still sexually active with Jenner around the time she would have conceived and reportedly called for a paternity test the baby.

ON September 29 2007, Pammy and film producer Rick Salomon applied for a marriage license in Las Vegas.

On October 6, 2007, Anderson, 52, married Salomon, also 52, in a small wedding ceremony at The Mirage, between her two nightly appearances at the Planet Hollywood Resort and Casino.

They separated on December 13, and on February 22, 2008, Pammy asked the courts for the marriage be annulled, citing fraud.

Then in October 2013, she told The Ellen DeGeneres Show that she and Salomon were 'friends with benefits'. In January 2014, the remarried.

But Pammy filed for divorce again from Salomon in February 2015. The divorce was finalised on April 29, 2015.

In 1988, after completing rehabilitation, she reconnected with Johnson, and the two remarried on June 26, 1989.

On October 4, 1989, Mel gave birth to her second child, 50 Shades star Dakota Johnson, with Don. They divorced for the second time in 1996.

Young Morse: sex scenes are so technical!

ENDEAVOUR star Shaun Evans says shooting a sex scene isn't as awkward as people might think.

The actor and director – who plays a young Inspector Morse – enjoys a steamy scene with co-star Stephanie Leonidas when the prequel series returns on Sunday.

Shaun said of sex scenes: "They're super easy because they're incredibly technical.

"In the ones I've done as an actor, they're incredibly technical because you want be specific movement-wise.

"The joy of this one, which I was directing, was Stephanie was so game and so up for it and had such an idea of what she wanted to do.

"I was more interested in creating the atmosphere between the two of us, because it wasn't about actually having sex.

"It was about what this person makes this person feel, and she just nailed it."

Cock-chop cop killer arrested

A COP who was shagging another man's wife has been found stabbed to death – with his COCK lopped off.

Police later arrested wronged hubby Amornlak Jitkoh, 45, who'd fled and hid in a forest in Nakhon Ratchasima, Thailand.

He was tracked down, persuaded to surrender and returned to Kalasin, where the murder took place, where officers said the man's wife had an affair with the victim.

MONSTERS OF DEATH ROW

THE WORLD'S MOST EVIL MURDERERS
AND THE HORRIFIC CRIMES THAT SAW THEM SENTENCED TO EXECUTION...

IT'S one thing to callously murder your girlfriend in a fit of rage. But forcing their 12-year-old daughter to help you dispose of the body by dismembering it with a circular saw is another act of evil altogether...

'He forced Keyuna to hold her mother's severed head, wrap her mother's body parts in plastic bags and place them in the freezer'

YOU can only imagine the terror experienced by young Keyuna Thomas.

She watched in horror as her father, James Hawkins, brutally stabbed her mother, Charlene Gaither, in the neck after she threatened to call police during one of their regular arguments.

It was Keyuna who then had to clean the still-warm blood that covered the floor and walls – blood that had drained away from her dying mother.

And it was Keyuna who was made to help drag the body away to a freezer, where it was temporarily stored.

Keyuna, who was just 12 years old, reched with disgust, grief and fear as Hawkins set about carving body parts – including the head from Charlene so that it would be easier for him to dispose of the body.

In harrowing, grim detail that stunned a courtroom, Keyuna described how her father had not only forced her into such awful acts, she had only been allowed to "look away" from the scene of barbarity in front of her once Charlene's "head fell to the floor".

In truly shocking testimony, Keyuna said: "I told my dad I didn't want to do this any more. But he said to me, 'You want to die, too?'"

So when Hawkins was eventually handed a death sentence in a courtroom in Memphis in June 2011, it was one of the easiest decisions a jury ever had to make.

District Attorney General Bill Gibbons said: "After reviewing the facts of this case, I have never felt more strongly about giving a jury the option of imposing the death penalty in accordance with our state law."

As is so often the case, abuse breeds abuse in a never-ending cycle of atrocity.

Hawkins had been brought up in a violent home in Tennessee.

Raped

And his own father, James Hawkins Sr, was equally nightmarish.

In 2014, a few years after Hawkins Junior's murder conviction, it emerged that his dad had repeatedly raped two children – a relative aged between five and 10 years old, and her 18-year-old half-sister, when she was aged 11 to 14.

Hawkins Sr, then 63, was handed a 50-year stretch in prison with no possibility of parole.

And if the younger Hawkins was aware of the actions of his father, it almost certainly influenced his own future behaviour.

Hawkins, then a disgruntled warehouse worker, made extra money on the side by taking part in a string of armed robberies.

By 1999, Hawkins had amassed 18 criminal convictions for aggravated robbery and aggravated assault.

He was paroled in 2007 after serving part of a 15-year sentence.

When he returned home to live with the long-suffering Charlene, daughter Keyuna and their two younger sons – who can't be named for legal reasons – the depravity truly began.

Hawkins promptly began to rape and sexually abuse his own daughter.

Brave Keyuna kept the abuse a secret, not only to protect herself from reprisals from her father, but to spare the innocence of her two brothers.

On Boxing Day 2007, Keyuna suffered a miscarriage. She'd been 10 weeks pregnant.

She told nurses at the Methodist LeBonheur Children's Hospital that she had been in a consensual sexual relationship with a school classmate.

But it became clear that was a lie. She had actually been made pregnant by her own father.

Charlene, meanwhile, grew ever more scared of the man she was sharing her home with.

She confided in friends – and even her former husband – that Hawkins was making threats to kill her.

In January 2008, Charlene, hysterical with fear, went to court to try to get an order of protection against Hawkins.

The official court

documents state:

"In describing the basis of her request for an order of protection, the victim reported that the defendant had become violent on January 12, 2008, and that he had pulled her hair when she told him that she and the children were leaving.

"The victim also expressed concern that the defendant had been sleeping in the same bed with her daughter.

"The victim stated she wanted the defendant to 'just stay away'."

A protection order was issued that same day – but it was never served on Hawkins and the case was dismissed before the end of the month.

Desperate

Weeks later, Charlene was dead – killed by the man she was so desperate to escape from.

The first police knew something was wrong was when Hawkins called the station to report that Charlene was missing.

Memphis Police Department officer Kimberly Houston was dispatched to interview Hawkins. And when she arrived, she didn't just smell a rat – she smelled death.

Police records state:

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER:
Hawkins
during his trial

IN FRIDAY'S

WARPED: Hawkins tried to blame his daughter for the murder of Charlene Gaither (above) himself, denying all knowledge of the horrific murder and refusing to point blank to make a confession. But then, almost it seemed by accident, the mask slipped.

As he was being transferred to jail at the end of a long interrogation session, he quipped: "I didn't do it, I didn't do it... but I may have covered it up."

When officers asked him what he meant, Hawkins callously tried to blame the crime on his daughter, saying it was Keyuna who had stabbed Charlene in the neck and that he had simply helped her try to get rid of the evidence.

That excuse was quickly ridiculed by detectives.

It was Keyuna's own testimony that revealed what really happened on that fateful night.

She described how, after her mother had been slain, she had got in the car with Hawkins and her two brothers.

Hawkins drove to a local DIY store. There, they had bought an electrical circular saw and cleaning materials.

On arriving back at home, the two boys were ordered to wait in the car outside while Keyuna and Hawkins went back in.

At some point, one of the boys had gone inside to use the toilet and had seen "red liquid dripping from an upright freezer in the kitchen of the apartment".

The court was told: "Believing it was Hawaiian punch, he asked the defendant if he could have some of it."

Harrowing

"The defendant told the boy it was not Hawaiian punch and instructed him not to open the freezer."

Hawkins eventually moved the body from the freezer to the bath.

What happening next is truly harrowing.

The official court documents state: "The defendant taped Keyuna's hands behind her back and ordered her not to turn away as he sawed off the victim's hands, feet and head with the saw they'd just purchased."

"He forced Keyuna to hold her mother's severed head, wrap her mother's body parts in plastic garbage bags, and place them back in the freezer."

He also forced Keyuna to help him place the rest of the victim's body back in the freezer.

"That night, the defendant woke Keyuna and forced her to help him place the victim's remains in the trunk of the car."

"The defendant took Keyuna for a long drive to Mississippi, where they eventually stopped on a bridge."

"The defendant called for his daughter to help him remove the victim's body from the trunk and put it in the ditch."

"The defendant disposed of the victim's head, hands and feet somewhere else on the drive home."

Hawkins was found guilty of murder and placed on Death Row on June 12, 2011, by Judge Chris Craft.

Hawkins asked if he could say one thing.

When the judge agreed, he mumbled: "I do want to apologise to the Gaither family for what I did."

It was as close to remorse as he got.

For Charlene's father, Louis Irvin, the sentence came as a blessed release.

He sobbed: "I got at least some justice for my child, for my baby."

"I'm sad, though, that his mother is going to lose a child."

"We need to make this an example. We have to stop this violence and hatred."

Serial killer 'fed victims to man-eating fish'

BONES: Apichai and an alligator gar fish

A serial killer has been arrested over fears he murdered dozens of women and fed their remains to carnivorous FISH in his garden pond.

Police raided the home of wealthy property heir Apichai Ongwisit, 40, following a tip-off that he was responsible for the killing of 22-year-old girlfriend Warinthon Chaiyachet, nicknamed Kik.

Kik's body – identified by a large fish tattoo on her back – was found wrapped in a plastic bag and weighed down with dumbbells in the pond.

Detectives believe she was suffocated and then hurled into the pond full of carnivorous alligator gar fish at his home in Bangkok last July.

Officers fears there could be more victims after police divers found at least 298 human bones in the water.

Witnessed

The family of a missing 12-year-old who lived near the property in the Thai capital believe she could also be in the pond.

The police chief said: "The investigation has found several women who were involved with the culprit have disappeared, including friends, girlfriends and prostitutes.

"We've found 298 bone pieces in the pond so far but could not clarify that how many humans those bones were from."

"We are also seeking his ex-girlfriend who we believe might have witnessed or have information about him killing," the missing women.

The case began last year when Kik's family reported her missing.

Investigators started their search when an informant tipped off cops that Kik had been killed by Apichai and claimed that there that there could be at least two other victims.

MURDERER 'FREED TO HAVE SEX' KILLED HOOKER IN HOTEL ROOM

'SEXUAL NEEDS':
Gallese
stabbed
Marylène
Lévesque
(below)
to death

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A WIFE murderer who was freed early to satisfy his 'sexual needs' killed a prostitute inside a hotel room.

Parole board bosses allowed Eustachio Gallese to visit brothels and engage with sex workers after he was released on parole five years early.

Gallese, 51, turned himself in to authorities and admitted to slaying 22-year-old vice girl Marylène Lévesque.

Officers rushed to the hotel and discovered Lévesque had been stabbed and sustained defensive wounds from the horrifying attack.

A motive has not yet been released. Gallese reportedly met Lévesque while she worked at an "erotic massage parlour" that he frequented during his time on parole.

Hammer

But he was eventually banned from the premises after he became violent with other women and Lévesque would later agree to meet Gallese at the hotel room in Quebec, Canada.

He has since been charged with second-degree murder for Lévesque's killing and blame for Gallese's actions has shifted to the parole board, who released him to a halfway house five years before his scheduled parole.

Gallese was convicted of domestic violence in 1997.

Seven years later, he murdered his 32-year-old partner, Chantal Deschênes, by beating her with a hammer before fatally stabbing her with two knives on October 21, 2004.

He was sentenced to life in prison in 2006 with no chance of parole for 15 years.

In 2007, the parole board found that Gallese was a 'high risk' for re-offending violence, but in 2016 lowered his status to 'moderate' and finally 'low to moderate' last year.

He was then granted supervised release on day parole at a halfway house in March 2019, which would carry on for six months.

Gallese had apparently brought up relationships with women that he discussed with his case workers.

His case workers acknowledged that he had 'sexual needs'.

"During the hearing, your parole officer underlined a strategy that was developed with the goal that would allow you to meet women in order to meet your sexual needs," the statement said.

SEX VID STUDENTS DISCIPLINED

BIRMINGHAM City University says it has "disciplined" students after a shocking video showing a couple HAVING SEX was filmed on its campus.

The short clip, lasting 17 seconds, was widely circulated after emerging on social media last month.

It captured two people romping in a study room behind a partially-frosted door, although the glass failed to entirely hide their modesty.

But a BCU investigation confirmed it WAS filmed at one of its sites.

Now the two students who were filmed having sex and those who shared the footage have been "disciplined".

A BCU spokesperson said: "We are aware of footage which was circulated online of an incident on our campus.

"Students who have breached university policies in any way – including those who originally shared the video online – are currently subject to disciplinary proceedings."

Porno star Jesse held for assault

PORN star Jesse Jane has been nicked for allegedly attacking her boyfriend during a boozed-up row.

The 39-year-old – real name Cindy Taylor – has been charged with domestic violence after being accused of punching her fella in the face and biting his hand.

She has since been released.

According to police, Taylor and her boyfriend had been drinking before getting into an argument.

The unnamed victim told cops he woke up to find Taylor throwing his medication, which she claimed to be steroids, into the bin.

When he confronted the porn actress about the discarded pills, she exploded in rage and allegedly beat him up.

Police who responded to the couple's home in Norman, Oklahoma, were met in the driveway by Taylor's boyfriend, who was nursing a bloody left eye and had bite marks on his left hand.

But Taylor reportedly offered a different version of events, claiming her boyfriend picked her up by the neck and hurled her against the wall.

Mums boycott shop loos over sex-mad teens

A GROUP of mums are refusing to take their kids to baby changing rooms in a shopping centre over claims that teenagers are using the space to have sex.

The furious mothers have seen "dozens" of youths coming in and out of the rooms at Westfield Fountain Gate in Narre Warren, Melbourne, Australia.

One mum said: "You can literally hear the sex noises – they also get high. I refuse to go in there with my kids – it's out of control."

She said the teens are aged around 16.

Another mum said she uses her car or disabled loos to change her baby's nappy and refuses to go into the parent rooms.

A Westfield Fountain Gate spokesman said: "We have not received any complaints."

RANDY MISS BONKED 2 TEENS IN CAR PARK

LUNCH BREAK
SEX:
Jaimee Cooney

Jailed cop's wife failed in bid to keep name secret

A RANDY teacher had sex with two 15-year-old lads in her car during school lunch break.

Jaimee Marie Cooney, 37, admitted seven charges of sexual relations with minors and two charges of sending sexual material to minors.

The mother-of-two – and wife of a cop – can now be named after abandoning a court battle to keep her identity a secret.

The former teacher repeatedly took two teenagers out of a school at lunchtimes to have sex in her car in 2018.

Vulnerable

She also sent them indecent images and videos via Snapchat and FaceTime.

Cooney was employed at Marlborough Boys College, New Zealand, before her resignation last year.

While working at the school, she had formed sexual relationships with "a number of students", who tended to be from more vulnerable families and were usually involved in sport, a police summary of facts said.

However, only two students were under the legal age of consent, which formed the basis for the charges laid.

Cooney was jailed for two years and six months and Judge Tony Zohrab refused an application for "name suppression" – banning news outlets from naming her for life.

Cooney's lawyers had indicated at that point that they intended to appeal that decision.

The hearing to decide on name suppression was scheduled for last week, but Cooney told the court in Blenheim she had dropped the appeal.

She had already been automatically added to the sex offenders' register.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY

Page

Dear Ava,

I WENT to a family wedding at a smart hotel with my missus and after the ceremony I headed for the bar and got stuck into the ale.

We were staying over and there was the evening "do" to come, so after a few beers I went for a lie down in our room.

I was dozing in just my boxers when a hand reached into my shorts, sending my cock skywards. And when I opened one eye, it was my wife's sister!

She started to tease my todyger with her tongue and gave me a great a blowjob.

We made eye contact at the evening reception but nothing was said. What was all that about?

LG, Devon

Ava says...

BEST to keep it a secret, I reckon.

Dear Ava,

AS a plumber who is a regular at my local church, it wasn't unusual to get a call from our vicar's daughter to look at a problem at the vicarage.

It was only a small job and afterwards she took me to the huge kitchen for a cup of coffee.

I noticed that she had quite a short skirt on and was showing a lot of leg, and as we chatted she showed more and more!

Soon I could clearly see her pussy on either side of her white lacy panties and I visibly stirred.

She began caressing my swollen cock. I pulled it out and pressed it up against her wet pussy-lips and pushed until I was bollocks deep.

Then I gave her the shag of her life. I've seen her since, but she never lets on.

MO, Somerset

Ava says...

PERHAPS you should offer to check her pipes!

Sex with missus and nanny is exhausting!

Dear Ava,

MY wife and I both work full-time, so a few months ago we took on a nanny to help at home.

She's a busty Australian and it wasn't long before we started shagging.

I was off work one day and saw her stood in her room starkers. She beckoned me in and we were immediately kissing and groping each other as she ripped my clothes off.

I lay her on the bed and licked her pussy, then she got down on her knees and sucked me off.

We had the most amazing sex and we have been doing so for more than a few weeks.

My wife doesn't suspect a thing, but the hired help keeps playing footsie with me under the table at shared meal times.

I'm infatuated with her and I've been taking a lot of time off work – just to bonk her.

I've also been having sex with my wife in between, to keep her happy, but it's exhausting.

I'm worried I'll lose them both – and my job – as I keep dozing at my desk.

What should I do?

PR, south London

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

Horny shop blonde blamed me for sack

Dear Ava,

WHEN me and my mates arranged to go on the pull, I went into town to buy some new dobber.

I went to a really cool men's clothing shop down a side street, hoping to get some nice designer jeans and a fitted shirt.

The other reason I paid it a visit is that there are always two or three fit birds working there.

It was quiet and when I went inside I was the only customer.

I was checking out this wicked pair of jeans when one of the girls – a blonde with big tits who always wears low-cut tops and short skirts – came over for a chat.

Sucking

I told her she looked nice, let her know where I'd be that night and said I'd buy her a drink if she came out.

She told me the other shop girl had gone out for lunch for an hour and the boss was on holiday.

She said the jeans would really suit me, asked if I wanted to try them on and gave me a filthy wink.

I went in the cubicle and put the jeans on. The dirty cow was locking the door and, after putting up the closed sign, she came into the cubicle and started snogging me.

I pulled down her top, got her big lovely tits out and started sucking them before she pulled down the new jeans and started giving me the best blowjob I've ever had.

She'd definitely done it before and teased my bellend with her tongue before taking my length deep in her throat.

Suddenly she stopped, pulled her thong to one side and pushed my cock into her moist shaven pussy.

I was doing her up against the wall and was about to blow my load when we heard a loud knocking on the front door of the shop.

"Fk!" she said, and she quickly got dressed and went back into the shop while I finished myself off.

But whoever had been knocking on the door had gone away.

Sadly, the blonde decided to keep the shop open – so that was the end of our bit of afternoon delight.

However, she came to meet me at a bar later that night and after a few drinks we went back to her place and finished what we had started earlier in the day.

The problem is, she rang me the following week to say she had been sacked – and she blames me!

Apparently, her boss had come back from his holidays early and it was him who had found the shop closed when it should have been open.

To make matters worse, in all the rush I forgot to buy the jeans and her boss found them on the changing room floor with a massive wad of spunk on the leg – so he sacked her!

Is it really all my fault?

HM, Manchester

Ava says...

NO. She knew the risk she was taking. I'm sure she will get another job soon.

Wife prefers huge sex toy to my cock

Dear Ava,

MY wife went to one of those sex toy parties where she spent £150 on sexy undies and bedroom gadgets.

When she got home she pulled a huge black vibrator out of her bag and led me to our bedroom, where she stripped off and began to demonstrate what the toy was capable of.

I sat amazed as she spread her thighs, flicked her love-bean for a minute to get her juices flowing and then eased the full length of the whirling machine deep inside her sopping wet hole.

After she brought herself to a climax, she laughingly tossed the sex toy over to me and invited me to have a go with it on her.

Shuddered

So I took hold of it and slipped it back into her as she lay open-legged on the bed.

She ordered me to bang it into her, faster and faster, until she shuddered and a huge orgasm rippled through her, while I lay back sweaty and knackered on the bed.

This has happened every night since and now she won't entertain having my own decent-sized cock inside her.

This is getting really frustrating. What should I do?

TL, Essex

Ava says...

MAKE your rival disappear fast!

Dear Ava,

OUR neighbours asked us to keep an eye on their house – and their 18-year-old son – while they were away on holiday.

My husband works nights and one evening, bored of channel-hopping, I put on one of my husband's porn DVDs.

I was fking myself with a dildo when I heard a noise outside.

It was the neighbours' son, who was pissed and he'd lost his key.

I went out and told him he could stay at ours and my husband would help him in the morning.

I told him to go in the lounge while I grabbed some drinks, but my heart sank when I realised I'd left the blue film running and the dildo on the sofa!

I gingerly peeped round the door and saw he was sitting there watching the porno with a thick nine-inch sticking out of his files as he wanked himself off.

I came in the room and grabbed his cock, gave it a long hard suck and straddled him.

He started pumping furiously until we came to a simultaneous climax.

I asked him to keep quiet but he must have told his friends, as a few have been to see me for sex.

What should I do?

RG, Birmingham

Ava says...

TELL them to fk off.

#MY SEX FANTASY

WHAT'S my favourite sexual fantasy? It isn't exactly "out there", but my main turn on is simply oral.

Giving it. Receiving it. I just can't get enough of it either way.

I absolutely love giving blowjobs. It's so straightforward but, for me, locking my lips round a guy's cock and giving him a delicious servicing is such a powerful feeling.

I'm genuinely enthusiastic and find guys get really turned on knowing you're excited to do it.

I know I'm darn good at it too. I love to take my time and build up his anticipation.

And when it's time to really go for it, I really go for it – and I have deep throat skills I'm proud of.

I love doing it in a loving way, and now and again I enjoy it as an act of sexual submission.

Being on your knees and looking up and making eye contact, with him taking control of his thrusts, getting a little forceful while I eagerly take it... that's so super hot.

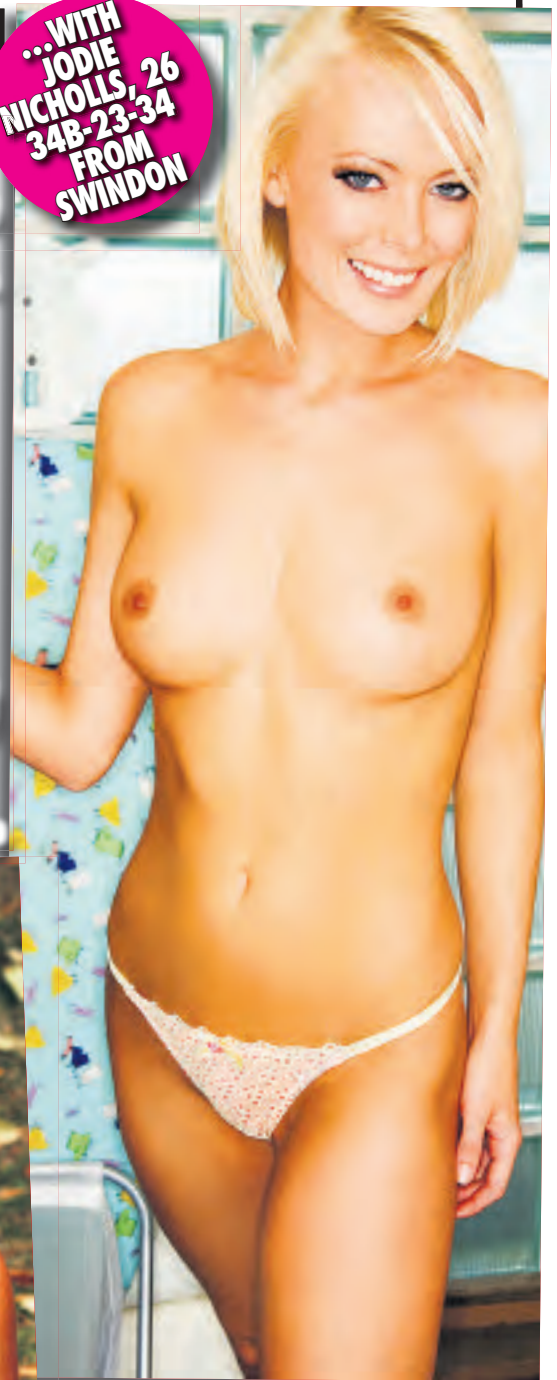

And getting oral... it's just heavenly. I love to lie back and feel like a pampered queen on her throne.

I equally love to go all dominant and sit on a guy's face and demand he licks and suck my clit until I explode.

This has got me so in the mood for it now!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest..

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

LUCY BECKER

GLAMOUR legend Lucy Becker has been getting fellas excited with her jaw-dropping 30Fs for years – but none more than Geordie taxi driver Gavin Whittaker.

Gavin told us 34-year-old Lucy, from Barnet, north London was one of the first models to ever catch his eye and he would love to see her in the Sport a bit more.

The 41-year-old said: "When I was a younger lad I used to look forward to picking up my copy of the Sport, in the hope there would be a new photo of curvy Lucy inside.

"She is a true legend if you ask me, and it would be great to see her back where she belongs – going topless in the Midweek Sport!"

DANI THOMPSON

DISHY Dani Thompson looks scorching with her 34G norks on show in this saucy snap, so it's no wonder we get so many reader requests for the 33-year-old model.

Dani, from Norwich, was the pick of avid Sport reader Gary McMullin.

The 29-year-old, from nearby Great Yarmouth, wrote in to ask for Dani to appear in this week's Show Me The Honey.

Well Gary, we're more than happy to oblige...enjoy!

KEIRA MOON

SOUTHERN scorcher Keira Moon, from Tower Hamlets, east London, is a real fan favourite.

Inundated with requests for photos of the 32-year-old model, we thought we'd better give our loyal army of readers what they want!

TAT'LL do nicely!... Aemelia Fox is one hot lady with some of the best body art we've ever seen!

The 23-year-old 32D babe, from Canning Town, London, is a big fan of inking and, being something of a sexual animal, is incredibly proud of the tiger on her hips and thigh.

She said: "It hurt like hell, but it is worth it.

"It reflects my personality, because I am a real tiger in the bedroom.

"I see what I want and I take it. I am very forward, I am not easily embarrassed and I will happily tell a man what he needs to do to make me climax.

"After a few lessons with me, blokes become the perfect lovers!"

KINGS OF THE ROAD: Saints are tough nuts

SPOT OF BOTHER AT LANE

TONIGHT'S TV FA Cup 4th Round replay sees Spurs host Southampton with the winners entertaining Norwich in the last 16. The Saints are a potent force on the road, and I think you can draw a line through events at Anfield at the weekend when they matched the runaway league leaders for 45 minutes.

Both sides fielded strong teams at St Mary's and I expect to see more of the same at the Tottenham Hotspur Stadium this evening. Spurs are 4/6 at BetVictor to win in 90 minutes with Southampton 14/5 and the draw at 11/4. Spurs are 1/3 to qualify for the 5th Round with Southampton 9/4 and I still think Ralph Hasenhuttl's side will edge it – despite a magnificent result for Spurs at home to Manchester City on Sunday.

It is better to be lucky than good in any walk of life and fortune was with the hosts although – just as in last season's Champions League semi – you can hardly blame Spurs for City's failings from the penalty spot.

Spurs are 8/1 to lift the trophy with Southampton 40/1. Both teams to score is 7/10 at BetVictor and that is the recommendation. It would not surprise me if the game went all the way to penalties and another 1-1 scoreline looks overpriced at 13/2.

Slump

There is a full set of fixtures in the Scottish Premiership this evening and Rangers begin the night seven points behind their Old Firm rivals Celtic after their disappointing 0-0 draw at home to Aberdeen on Saturday. That goalless draw means it is five points dropped in two games for Steven Gerrard's side and they are back to playing catch-up with their neighbours Celtic.

Gers are out to 9/4 to lift the title and must arrest their mini slump against Hibs at Ibrox tonight. Rangers are 1/5 with BetVictor to keep the points with Hibs 12/1 and the draw 9/2. Alfredo Morelos had a glit-tered chance to give the hosts all three points against the Dons at the weekend and the Colombian is 5/2 at BetVictor to open the scoring. That looks short enough and Ryan Kent – 11/2 with BetVictor – is the tip.

Celtic travel to Fir Park to meet a Motherwell side who currently sit third in the table despite losing 1-0 at Liv at the weekend. That goal was the first the Steel-men had conceded in their last four games and I expect the hosts to give the Champions a real test.

Motherwell are 21/10 with BetVictor in the double chance market – to either draw or win – and that is the recommendation. There are still two Old Firm games to come in the Premiership, but Rangers have returned from the midwinter break slowly. I just wonder if Stephen Robinson's side can give Rangers the fillip they need. I still expect to see the title go down to the wire.

TIMO TIME: Werner has his sights on the Premier League

Werner fancies England move

GERMAN STRIKER A BIG PREMIER LEAGUE ADMIRER

By PAUL THOMAS

GERMAN hitman Timo Werner has started a real scramble for his signature after saying he wants a Premier League move.

The Red Bull Leipzig hitman is one of the hottest properties in the Bundesliga with a whopping 25 goals in 28 outings this season.

That has attracted the attention of the big boys with Liverpool, Chelsea and Manchester United keen to get their hands on him.

The Bridge Boys reportedly tried to get a deal done last month but Werner wanted to wait until the summer when more bidders may come into the fray. But it's clear that he sees his future in England.

Werner said: "I can imagine playing abroad one day, although I don't have any specific club where I want to be."

"I am open for everything. I was over in America for a holiday recently and English football was on all of the time."

"That's an exclamation mark for the Premier League. But there are also big, famous clubs and it would certainly be fun playing there."

Werner is only 23 and would cost around £80m.

And he knows that time is on his side when it comes to plotting his next move. Liverpool are thought to be in the driving seat thanks to another German in Jurgen Klopp being in charge.

But it's far from certain that he'll end up at Anfield unless the likes of Sadio Mane or Mo Salah decide to move on.

Future

Werner added: "When you score 20 goals as a 23-year-old in a season then, of course, there is interest. That's clear."

"But, right now, I am not thinking about what happens in the future."

"We are going into many important games. That's what I want to focus on now."

I can still contemplate my future later."

RB Leipzig manager Ralf Rangnick – once of Fulham – reckons Werner should stay away from Anfield because he won't get the game time he needs at this stage of his career.

He points to Naby Keita who made the same move with mixed results. The Guinea midfielder has had injuries since his £48m deal.

Rangnick said: "Keita was an outstanding player here, but he's still struggling in Liverpool."

"So far, he's not the player there that he was here. The surroundings must be right for Timo. That's the case here."

STUPID SPURS UP FOUR IT

Lucas wants Moura from his mates

LUCAS Moura says Tottenham should stop dropping "stupid" points and get into the top-four hunt.

Spurs stunned champions Manchester City with a 2-0 win at the weekend. New signing from PSV Eindhoven Steven Bergwijn looked like an old hand and Moura played his part against Pep's lads.

The victory moved Jose Mourinho's men into fifth spot but, after making the Champions League final last season, that is a disappointing return.

Moura believes Spurs can kick on now provided they don't get sloppy.

He said: "Of course we can make the top four but we need to think step by step, game by game, win points and don't lose stupid points like we did in the last few games."

"Let's think about the next game, step by step like I said, and I'm sure we can arrive in the top four and finish the season well."

The Brazilian likes what he sees in new team-mate Bergwijn who hit the headlines with a well-taken opening goal.

Moura added: "I've been with him for a few days and we can see that he's a very good guy, a very nice guy and a real quality player.

By JOHN ANTHONY

"He will help us a lot because he has a lot of quality. We need everyone that is a quality player and they come with this mentality to help the team, it's welcome."

One of the flashpoints in the game came when England team-mates Dele Alli and Raheem Sterling clashed.

The City winger caught the Spurs schemer on the ankle with some pundits thinking he should have seen red.

Alli is playing the incident down and insists there will be no issue when they next meet up for the Three Lions.

He said: "I am not sure if it was a red to be honest. It is obviously for the referee and VAR to make the decision. They didn't give the red card."

Winner

Sterling made a point of talking to Alli while he was receiving treatment for the challenge.

The Spurs man added: "We were just chatting, he is not in the best of moods, he is a winner so it was difficult."

"We haven't seen each other for a while so it was nice to have a catch up."

"We were speaking about it at half-time and we are good friends. I know what sort of player Raheem is and he would never intentionally try to hurt someone."

"There are no hard feelings, he is a fantastic player and we move on."

Alli believes Spurs have big boots to fill now that Christian Eriksen has moved to Inter.

He said: "Chris is an amazing player, but it came to that point where he wanted to move on."

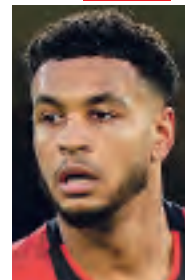

"He gave me a lot of assists as well and I am going to miss them!"

STAYING PUT: King

Red mist King can reign for Cherries

JOSH King is thought to be FUMING after his deadline-day move to Manchester United broke down.

The Norwegian hitman was set to join the Reds from Bournemouth — but the Cherries rejected the deal.

King started his career at Old Trafford and was keen to get back there.

But boss Eddie Howe put his foot down with Bournemouth struggling at the wrong end of the Premier League.

He insists that the 28-year-old is happy to stay at the Vitality Stadium.

Howe said: "He has been in a really good frame of mind."

"He is desperate to come back from injury and show everybody how good he is."

"He is very keen to play for the club, for the shirt, there is no issues with him at all."

"It was a difficult few days for him. I'm not going to deny that, but I think he is in a good place now to return and fight for us."

"I think I'm always thinking of my players and, of course, the club and making sure we do right by the club and right by the players."

"Joshua is in a good place to return and show everybody that he is the striker that deserves to be bid by Manchester United and living up to that."

Fer backs City flops

FERNANDINHO says City will back from their Spurs shocker.

Pep's lads lost 2-0 but the veteran Brazilian thinks it was just a bump in the road.

The game was his 300th appearance in a blue shirt.

He said: "We played the same way we've played this season by creating chances but at the end the result was not the one we wanted."

"Now we need to stick together as a squad."

"We created chances especially in the first half where we hit the post and in the second half we hit the bar. We also missed a penalty so it was a strange game."

"We had a chance to score at least three goals but we have to accept it. We have to get back to training and improve."

UPS AND DOWNS FOR BRUCE

STEVE Bruce says he's fed up of the roller-coaster ride at St James's Park.

After having his name sung by the fans, he left the field to a chorus of boos after a 0-0 draw with Norwich at the weekend.

There has been talk this week of potential new owners of the Toon bringing Rafa Benitez back to the club.

That's all Bruce needs as he battles to keep his side away from the relegation zone.

He said: "I seem to have pivotal weeks every week — every week is one. It goes up and down here. In difficult circumstances over the last month or so we have shown a certain amount of resilience to get this far."

By ANDY MILLOM

After some good results, things have taken a turn for the worse in the past couple of weeks.

But they have built a seven-point gap to West Ham in 18th spot with 13 games to go.

Another three wins should be enough for the Toon as they would then clock up the magical 40 points.

Bruce believes it's fair enough for the fans to have a pop.

He said: "I can understand it because we haven't played well enough. I do think there are a couple of reasons why."

"I'm not going to try and make excuses, but we have been badly hindered with injuries."

"We'd love, with the amount of games we've played, to rotate a little bit, to freshen up a little bit, whatever we can do."

"It hasn't been possible to do that, especially at the forward areas. To give people a break when they need it."

"So in that respect, it's been difficult. The one thing we have been able to do is not play well and still not be beaten. That is important."

"We played poorly against Norwich so we'll have to accept criticism wherever it comes."

"We played poorly, but we didn't get beat."

"We can still play with the structure that we've got and play better. Be better on the counter attack which we have been and caused teams a lot of problems."

Jesse close to summer Spain switch

TWO European giants are bidding to sign Jesse Lingard.

The midfielder has fallen out of favour at Manchester United and is expected to move in the summer.

Atletico Madrid and AS Roma are leading the chase for the England star. And it looks like the Reds are preparing for his departure.

By JOHN ANTHONY

January signing Bruno Fernandes plays a very similar role to Lingard and it's hard to see them fitting into the same team.

Despite that, insiders say boss Ole Gunnar Solskjaer is desperate to keep the graduate of the Old Trafford academy.

But Lingard is 27 now and has just signed with Paul Pogba's super agent Mino Raiola.

Atletico appear to be in the driving seat as they are having another strong season in Spain — and are about to take on Liverpool in the Champions League.

Their boss Diego Simeone is a known admirer and believes Lingard could thrive in La Liga.

The bidding is expected to start at around £40m given that he has just 18 months left on his current contract.
